| Errata | |
|--------|---|
| Page | Clarification |
| * 27 | Last sentence in caption for top right underhood photo should read, "You can see the open "flapper" valve indicates the engine is not running." |
| * 36 | First paragraph reads, "Very few options were available for an SS Equipment-optional Malibu that were not available for any other Malibu of the same body style. The Z15 SS454 option included stronger rear ends, the basic round dash pod, SS Emblems, SS wheels, and the ZL2 Cowl Induction Hood system. Other items, such as power disc brakes, U14 Special Instrumentation, and bucket seats, were standard on the SS Equipment-optional Malibus but optional on non-SS-optional Malibus." Should read, "Very few options were available for an SS Equipment-optional Malibu that were not available with any other Malibus of the same body style. The SS engines would certainly be one of them. Both the Z25 SS396 and Z15 SS454 came standard with power disc brakes, round pod dash, SS body emblems, and SS wheels. The Z15 option included a stronger rear end and transmission. Some items were options such as the ZL2 hood, bucket seats, and U14 Special Instrumentation." * Neither U14 Special Instrumentation nor bucket seats were standard with either SS Equipment option. |
| * 41 | First paragraph, last sentence; M40 TH500 should be M40 TH400 . |
